Cheese Making and Over-Production.

A Paper Read by B. S. Moxie, at the Annual Meeting of the Wisconsin Dairy-men's Association held at Milwaukee, Jan. 23d and 24th, 1878.

Mr. President and Members of the Association:

The topic assigned to me at this time is one of much importance to us as manufacturers and dairymen. In fact the subject of demand and supply is the foundation on which rests the whole structure of the commerce of nations, and in all transactions of whatever kind or commodity a true relation of one to the other must exist, in order to hold the equilibrium.

Science and the inventive genius of man is every day unrolling and bringing out something new and useful for which before no demand existed, but for its usefulness and adaptability to the need of art or manufacture, and the wants of man a new market is at once created.

Many such new products or compounds have been brought out during the past few years, pushing their way to the market, and have asked and secured the question, "How did we get along without it, and what will be the next new and useful thing under the sun?"

Natural causes beyond our control sometimes result in the production of an over-abundance. This is true in relation to many or most of all agricultural products. But this same nature soon restores the equilibrium by a lack in other localities or a general lack the next year. And here again science and the skill of man has so far succeeded in preserving fruit and other articles to our wants that we have nearly outwitted nature in this respect.

We can see that in every product of the soil depending upon climatic changes with the labor and skill of man, there must be a fluctuation of supply and demand; and the more perishable or the least time expense to produce the article, the more general is the rule of this disturbance.

We are all aware of the fact that causes have existed which stimulated and increased the production of a commodity beyond any legitimate demand, until such commodity was placed upon the market at a great loss to the manufacturer.

Again there are products requiring skill and capital to produce, which are controlled by wealthy companies or combinations, who have it in their power to regulate the supply to the average demand of the market, and the price to a certain profit or percentage above the cost to produce.

In this way monopolies oppressive have been created until legislative enactments have been sought to control the one and protect the other.

It is also true that commodities and products in portions of the world which were supposed to be of only places that could produce them, have been in a great measure superseded by the same products, but from localities where circumstances were more favorable to its production.

You and I, gentlemen, have often heard it asserted that the States of New York and Ohio were the only dairy regions where good butter and cheese could be produced in the United States, and many of us when we settled in Wisconsin, wrote thus to our friends in the East. And so Switzerland and Geneva thought at one time that they could supply the world with watches, but our Centennial Exhibition taught them the fact that we could make a watch 30 per cent. better than theirs at 30 per cent. less cost, and New York and Ohio are the rest of the world that Wisconsin could produce just as good cheese as was ever made in old Herkimer county; and we know at a much less expense for feed and for cows than in New York State, and consequently at a better profit to the dairymen. This then brings us more directly to the question assigned to me of over production of cheese in Wisconsin.

We all remember ten or twelve years ago when the factory system was being inaugurated in this State that this same question was put and doubts maintained by some that the business would soon cease to be remunerative and it is not strange that those not well posted in the demand to supply that these doubts should exist.

But a few facts only will be necessary to show such even, that their fears are groundless. The past four years, 1874-75-76 and 1877 represent the period of our lowest expectation, and taking the purchasing value of gold into account, the past year has been the most remunerative to the cheese dairymen in the history of this branch of American industry. This fact, then, is one answer to my question, And whatever may be the result of over production in the future, I think Wisconsin sin need have no fears as to dairying being a profitable investment.

It has been already shown, and the fact is true to all observers, that we can produce cheese cheaper than in the Eastern States, and it was stated by Mr. Smith, I think, last winter, that we could ship cheese from Sheboygan county to New York city at less expense per pound than from Western New York to that city.

Again, another fact: The quality of our cheese has attracted and challenged the attention of our English buyers and consumers, and their agents are already taking our cheese from Chicago direct to London and Liverpool at about the same rate as from New York to Philadelphia. And our English cousins and Scottish neighbors find that their narrow farms cannot produce cheese as cheaply as they can buy it of us.

Reasons for this article of food has been demonstrated that in no way can the different elements necessary to human life be so condensed and so easily transported and kept intact as in a pound of cheese, and it is being more and more used as an article of food. There has been, there may be, and perhaps always will be, over supply of a poor article, and this will stimulate us to produce better until perfection is attained; and it costs no more to produce a pound of good cheese than it does a pound of poor.

When Henry Disten commenced the manufacture of saws in Philadelphia a few years ago, he determined to make the best saw that could be made, and the result is that his saws are known now in the old country and here as the best made in the world. The poor are driven from the market, and their place supplied by a cheaper and much better article than Sheffield ever produced.

Let our association in the future, as in the past, discourage the practice followed by other States of making a low grade of cheese by part or whole skimming. And let Wisconsin dairymen and factory men be stimulated to produce the best. Let us manufacture, if possible, an American cheese with some peculiar flavor which shall create a demand like some of the fancy cheeses imported to this country. If it be a sage cheese, as I see some of our New England people call for (and which is now quoted two cents higher per pound in the market). Let us make that, and it necessary let us make them in new forms or more attractive style, and if by so doing we can create a greater demand for a cheaper and more healthy article of food then we have benefitted ourselves and our fellows; they reaping the blessings and we the profits.

The Money Borrowed in the World in 1877.

Borrowing was done on a grand scale in 1877. A Belgian statistician has compiled a list of the issues made in various countries of the world, and sets down the total amount as $1,580,975,000, against $725,000,000 in 1876, and $389,000,000 in 1875. Of this enormous amount, $1,154,850,000 was borrowed by governments, National, State and municipal, and the balance by railway and industrial companies and institutions of credit. The excess of the world's borrowing last year over that of previous years was mainly due to the conversion loans of the United States. The French loans have amounted to $375,000,000, over two-thirds of which have been issued by railway and industrial companies. The large loans of Russia were paid chiefly in the paper money which the Government itself has issued.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The standard remedies for all diseases of the lungs are SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SCHENCK'S SEWEE TONIC, and SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS; and if taken before the lungs are destroyed they effect a speedy cure. To these medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary diseases. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, and the patient has relief from the prostrating cough. The Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse and stimulate the stomach and liver; they remove all obstructions, relax the gall bladder and rest the liver, and the liver is soon relieved. Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative; the alkali of which it is composed mixes with the food and prevents souring. It assists the digestion by toning up the stomach to a healthy condition, so that the food and Pulmonic Syrup will make good blood; then the lungs heal, and the patient will surely get well if care is taken to avoid fresh cold. Full directions accompany each preparation. All who wish to consult Dr. Schenck personally, can do so at his principal office, corner of Sixth and Arch Sts., Philadelphia, every Monday.

Letters to the above address, asking advice, answered free of charge.

CATARH

NEVER-FAILING RELIEF

AFORDED BY

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

IT is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimony ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does in every case afford relief and permanent cure. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose of this medicine will relieve the patient. The testimony of physicians, druggists, and patients is unanimous on this point, and the accumulating evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly feel proud of the position this remedy has attained, and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R.I.

MEAS. WEAVER & F. POTTER, Proprietors. - Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you a line to say that I have been afflicted with this disease for many years, and have tried every remedy known to me, but without success. I have been afflicted with this disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could I be induced to persevere with any until I read the letter of Mr. HENRY WEAVER, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make a trial of this medicine, very truly, etc. THEO. P. BOGERT, Bristol, R.I., July 24, 1877.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S FARMING.

From the Country Gentleman.

Mr. M. B. Chamberlain in an article, quite too complimentary, in your issue of Jan. 17th, giving some statistics of my farming, makes several mistakes in memory, of which there are some that should be corrected.

1. He makes me sell a ton of timothy hay to buy half a ton of shelled corn. But for seven years, prime hay averaged more per ton in Cleveland than shelled corn. And in 1874, hay sold as high as $30 to $35 per ton for several weeks, while shelled corn sold at the elevator for $17 to $19. I call it poor fancying to exchange a ton of timothy for half a ton of corn; but good to exchange ton for ton, and extra good to sell a ton of timothy, and with the cash buy two tons of shelled corn, as I have done. The point is to use the cheapest feed, whether raised on the farm or not.

2. He makes my tile draining cost $70 per acre. It cost two of my neighbors nearly that; but in 1877, I drained 12 acres, laying the drains two rods apart, and 2 1/2 feet deep, for $20 per acre. The drains were 4-inch tile, and the laterals 2-inch. This estimate included freight on tile, brought 32 miles, and the wages and board of men. The work was chiefly done with a four-horse team, with no expensive machinery.

3. Mr. Chamberlain says I have supported my family handsomely, greatly improved my farm, and made a handsome profit. But he forgets to state what I told him, that for the first eight years I steadily sunk money for improvements, labor and living expenses, overran the actual farm receipts, largely at first, and gradually less, till now the income largely exceeds expenses. The land at first was impoverished, and fences and barns almost worthless. It was a slow and expensive work to bring the farm up to its present condition, and it took a long time to pay the debt incurred.

W. I. CHAMBERLAIN.

Wisconsin Matters.

Prairie Farmer.

I have just returned from a three days' session of the Minnesota State Horticultural Society at Rochester, one of the thriving cities of that State. The attendance was large, and the interest manifested on the subjects of fruit and forest tree growing, and sugar-cane culture in the Northwest, was unusually great. Fine specimens of potatoes, crab and standard apples (of the latter the Wealthy took the lead), canned fruit, and sugar and syrup, were on exhibition. The society is flourishing, and is taking a great interest in the setting of forest trees in the large treeless prairies of their State, which is a move in the right direction. A very able and valuable paper on this subject was read by L. B. Hodges. It contained many good suggestions. Resolutions were also offered in favor of a new timber or forestry act. The cultivation of a species of sugar maple called the early amber—particularly adapted to Minnesota and Wisconsin, or indeed the whole Northwest—is receiving considerable attention, of which the manufactured articles of both sugar and syrup were very fine. They still have hopes of raising apples, but seem inclined to place greater reliance on the new variety of Minnesota crab, than on standard. They place the Duchess and Wealthy at the head of the list, and only recommend them for general cultivation. They recommend other hardy varieties for general trial. The society elected Thurman M. Smith president, and Chas. Y. Lacey, secretary, for the ensuing year.

Cooking Food.

I read with interest the article on page 323, by E. W. S., about cooking food for animals. We steam all our food, and find great benefit as well as economy in food in so doing. Where coal is as cheap as it is here, selling for $1.25 per ton delivered, and less for slack or fine coal, it proves decidedly profitable. In feeding cattle with corn fodder in the bundle in yards, or even in stables, as does many a farmer, the corn is required per head for wintering, besides which, they are fed corn in the ear. By steaming the food, made up in the proportion of one bushel of meal to 40 bushels of cut feed, we require but 20 to 22 shocks per head. A shock here is usually 13 hills square. After weaning our calves in October, we began making butter on a small scale, the cows running in fair pasture, with all the good timothy hay they would eat, morning and evening, and a ration of meal at milking.

From Oct. 15th to Nov. 15, we made 79 pounds of butter. About Dec. 1st we began feeding steamed food, and gave less meal at milking than with the hay, making the total amount of meal about the same, there being some in the steamed food. From Nov. 15th to Dec. 15th, we made 100 pounds of butter from the same cows. I attribute the increase solely to the steamed food.

Golden Horse Shoes.

The "Miss Thompson of America," who was described a few days ago, as having electrified Edinburgh by ordering for her mare a set of shoes of solid gold, has been identified by the Niagara Falls Gazette as an eccentric guest last summer, of the Cataract House. She never registered her name, and repelled all social advances. Her bills were paid promptly, usually in $20 gold pieces, which she also, at the time of her departure lavished upon the attendants of the hotel. She would leave the hotel without announcement and be absent several days, and upon returning seek her room as though she had only been out for a short walk. In numerous other ways she evinced a mind decidedly peculiar. She had a valuable mare with her, which she was in the habit of riding, usually with a groom on foot to lead the animal. While occupying apartments at the Cataract the lady left one day as quiet as usual, and some days after the proprietors received a telegram from Bristol, England, from their eccentric guest, requesting special care for the mare until she should return. Weeks after she returned and remained a short time; then again took her departure for Scotland, taking her mare with her, and also one of the porters at the hotel to take care of the animal on the way.

Tender Teeth in Pigs.

What troubles a seven-months-old boar, that hesitates about eating corn, or other hard food, but has no black teeth? J. M. W. [Swine usually have their milk teeth replaced by the permanent ones at twelve and twelve months old, and the cutting of thirty-six teeth through the gums causes more or less soreness, inflammation and tenderness. This is the apparent cause of the trouble mentioned, and the remedy is in feeding only ground or cooked food until the new teeth are fully grown.]

FARM NOTES.

The year 1878 opens in Minnesota with no grasshoppers eggs.

It is reported by the Georgia papers that good field hands can be hired in that State at $50 to $75 per annum, and board.

About one hundred and twenty-five thousand bushels of clover seed are annually sent from this country to Europe.

Horse shoes made of three thick pieces of cow-hide pressed together, are in use in London. These shoes are light and durable, and need no calks.

Hon. George Wells is the big farmer of Grundy county, Iowa. He has 8,000 acres under cultivation, all enclosed by fence.

Florida hogs average a value of $3.72. The average hog in Maine is worth $10.11. New Hampshire, $14.90; Vermont, $10.91; Massachusetts, $14.80; Rhode Island, $13.80; Connecticut, $15.74. New York, $10.30.

O. F. Atwood, of Richville, Vt., recently killed a bull calf that was eight months old lacking four days, which dressed weighed 476 pounds. This calf was fed with sour milk through the summer, with a quantity of meal during the last three months. This shows the efficacy of sour milk as food for calves.

In general, 20,000 pounds is a car load. It is also 10 barrels of meal, 20 of flour, 60 of whisky, 200 sacks of flour, 6 cords of hard wood, 7 of soft, 18 to 20 head of cattle, 50 to 60 head of hogs, 80 to 100 head of sheep, 6,000 feet of solid boards, 17,000 feet of siding, 33,000 feet of flooring, 49,000 shingles, one-half less of hard lumber, one-quarter less of green lumber, one-tenth less of posts, scantling, and all other large lumber, 340 bushels of wheat, 350 of corn, 500 of oats, 400 of barley, 360 of flax seed, 350 of apples, 380 of Irish potatoes, 360 of sweet potatoes, and 1,000 bushels of bran. The foregoing table may not be exactly correct, for the reason that railroads do not agree in their rules and estimates, but it approximates so closely to the average, that shippers will find it a great convenience as a matter of reference.

VEGETINE.

HER OWN WORDS.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 13, 1877.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—Since several years I have got a sore and very painful foot. I had some physicians, but they could not cure me. Now I have heard of your Vegetine from a lady who was sick for a long time, and became all well from your Vegetine, and I went and bought me one bottle of Vegetine, and after I had used one bottle, the pains left, and it began to heal, and then I bought one more bottle, and so I take it yet. I am sure that this remedy will cure me, and wishing every sufferer may pay attention to it. It is a blessing for health.

Mrs. C. KRAE.

638 West Baltimore Street.

VEGETINE.

SAFE AND SURE.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

In 1872 your Vegetine was recommended to me, and yielding to the persuasions of a friend, I consented to try it. At the time I was suffering from general debility and nervous prostration, superinduced by overwork and irregular habits. Its wonderful strengthening and curative properties seemed to affect my debilitated system from the first dose, and under its persistent use I rapidly recovered, gaining more than usual health and good feeling. Since then I have not hesitated to give Vegetine my most unqualified endorsement, as being a safe, sure and powerful agent in promoting health and restoring the wasted system to new life and energy. Vegetine is the only medicine I use; and as long as I live I never expect to find a better.

Yours truly,

W. H. CLARK, 129 Monterey Street, Allegheny, Pennsylvania.

VEGETINE.

THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE.

CHARLESTOWN.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—This is to certify that I have used your "Blood Preparation" in my family for several years, and think that for Scrofula or Cancerous Humors or Rheumatic Affections it cannot be excelled; and as a blood purifier and spring medicine it is the best thing I have ever used, and I have used almost everything. I can cheerfully recommend it to any one in need of such a medicine.

Yours respectfully,

Mrs. A. A. DINGMORE, 19 Russell St.

VEGETINE.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1871.

MR. H. R. STEVENS, Esq.

Dear Sir—About one year ago I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. Vegetine was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use. I procured the article, and after using several bottles, was restored to health, and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health.

Respectfully yours,

U. L. PETTINGILL,

Firm of S. M. Pettengill & Co., No. 10 State St., Boston.

ALL HAVE OBTAINED RELIEF.

SOUTH BRIMLEY, Me., Jan. 17, 1872.

H. R. STEVENS, Esq.

Dear Sir—I have had dyspepsia in its worst form for the last ten years, and have taken hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine without any relief. In September last I commenced taking Vegetine, since which time my health has steadily improved. My food digests well, and I have gained fifteen pounds in flesh. There are several others in this place taking Vegetine, and all have obtained relief.

BRIEFLETS.

—Quit loafing.
—Go, hear what the preachers have to say.
—The building season has already opened.
—The school teachers were paid off by the City Treasurer to-day.
—There will be much mirth around the Round Table next Wednesday evening, "Wit" being the topic of talk.
—Old Sol is having a shadow picture taken to-day. You can't see the eclipse though, unless you get out of America before sundown.
—The persons have taken a new way to stop the bad ones from swearing. It doesn't mean anything now to tell a man to "go to"—and it's all their fault.
—A number of the citizens of the county are getting their valises in readiness for a trip to Madison next week to attend the joint convention of the agriculturists and horticulturists.
—The post office issued during the past week, 140 money orders amounting to $1,538.96, and paid 104 money orders amounting to $1,416.22, making a total money handled $2,955.18.
—The Art Section of the M. I. C., meets to-night to study the chief representatives of antique statuary now extant viz: The Laocoon, the Apollo Belvedere, Venus de Meloni and of Milo and the Niobe Group. All are welcome.

—The funeral services of the late Owen McDermott, whose death was announced yesterday, will take place to-morrow. The friends will meet at the house at half-past 1 o'clock, and from thence proceed to St. Mary's Church, where services will be held at 2 o'clock.

—Remember that James Kay Applebee, who was to have lectured last evening on "Dickens," is surely to be on hand next Friday evening, the postponement being made to accommodate those who wanted to attend the concert, and who couldn't be in two places at one and the same time.

—The Gazette had an item in its Footville jots last week, to the effect that Mr. Fred Fuller and Miss Ellen Bean had been united in the bonds of wedlock. It appears from the statements of parties who should know most about the matter, that there was no foundation for such a statement, and that the correspondent must have been misinformed.

—Cussedness pure and undefiled has caused some fellow to break the thermometer which Webb & Hall have hung on their outer wall for the benefit of the public in particular and ye local in general. Now that hell has been abolished, that fellow will have no place to go to when he dies, but if he keeps on in his career there will be no trouble in his getting a place while he lives.

—Mr. William Booth, who for many years was a resident of Janesville, and who now resides in Leavenworth, Kansas, as the State Agent of the Northwestern Life Insurance Company of Milwaukee, is in the city, and will spend the Sabbath here, returning home Monday next. He is heartily greeted by his many old friends, who rejoice to learn that the world is using him kindly.

—Justice Patten has a unique way of dealing with tramps. When a squad of half-a-dozen or so arrives, he sentences them for varying terms, one for five days, another for ten, and so divides the time that no two are released on the same day. This prevents their clubbing together and he sends them out single-handed and alone to fight a cruel fate, which has robbed them of the love of work.

—The collection taken in the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning for missions, amounting to $80, will be swelled to about $125, by contributions from the several sub-societies of that church, that are working for the same object. The Presbyterians have for several years contributed about this amount, which in proportion to the number of members, places the society up among those who ought to carry the banner.

—A sad looking wreck of what was once a first class two-seated top-buggy, tells the story of a ride over rough roads, indulged in by a party of five young folks, two of which were Janesville young men. The rig was smashed about four miles beyond Milton, but the how or why of it is a mystery. It is claimed that the rough roads caused a break, that the occupants were spilled out, and the team allowed to quietly pursue the even tenor of their ways until they had dragged the carriage into kindling wood, and finally stopped for a drink at the house of a farmer who held them for the owner's coming. The passengers had no bones broken. The team was one of Jackson's steadiest, and are said to have been as gentle as kittens, which increases the mystery.

—The Beloit folks should remember that Postmaster Patterson and the honored and honorable Chas. G. Williams should have the credit for securing the new mail route connecting Beloit and Janesville. Beloit has objected, and last fall failed the attempt to put on the service, and now that it is done they should not be too eager to grasp for the honor of the thing, and cry out "didn't we kill the bear." Although it remained for Janesville to dictate the best hours of running the same, there has been no spirit of dictation shown, and the matter has been magnanimously arranged so that Beloit may be best suited. Now that Beloit has the sub-contractor, and has the beginning and end of the route, it ought not to try to rob Janesville of the remaining crumb of comfort, that this city and its citizens were the cause of the convenience.

THE WEATHER.

The mercury at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 26° above, and at 1 o'clock at 36° above. Clear. At corresponding hours of the day one year ago, the thermometer indicated 31° and 48° above. The indications today are, colder clearing weather, northerly winds, rising barometer.

DEATH OF REV. D. DAVIES.

Death is still abroad in the land, and seems to be using his sickle among the best and the fairest. Another household in the city has been saddened, another light has gone out. This morning about 1 o'clock Rev. David Davies, who was stricken with paralysis last Monday, breathed his last. Mr. Davies was the father of the well-known townsman E. H. and D. Davies, Jr., and had himself won many friends and admiring acquaintances during the four years in which he had resided in this city. He was born in Newtown, Montgomery county, North Wales, June 10, 1807, and removed to this country in 1831. He commenced his work in the pulpit in the East, and did most effective work for forty-three years, breaking the bread to many eager ones seeking for truth. He was at different times a member of the Oneida, Black River, and Wyoming Methodist Conferences, and stood high in the ranks among his brethren, who will learn with deep regret that his race is run and he has been called higher. The funeral services have been arranged to take place next Monday. At half past one o'clock there will be a brief service at the residence of the deceased, and at two o'clock the more public services will be held at the First Methodist church on Jackson street. The bereaved relations will have and should have the sympathy and comforting words of many friends in the community, who share in their sorrow at the loss of such a just man, but now made perfect.

A MODEL HOTEL.

The Plankinton house, Milwaukee, is not only a thing of beauty to that city, but a joy forever to those of the travelling public who have occasion to visit the Cream City. It has taken rank among the best hotels of the country, it being elegant enough to suit the most fastidious, and cozy enough to suit the most home-sick soul. Nothing is being spared that will add to the comfort and pleasure of the guests. From its very opening the hotel has been popular, and its patronage so largely increased that the building of an addition was necessary. This has been completed, and now it is conceded to be more of a favorite than ever. The prices have been fixed in accordance with the general cry for economy, and are varied according to the location of the rooms, so that each guest can gauge his own expenditures. Col. H. B. Sherman, the general proprietor, is not only known far and near as a hotel man, but has won an enviable reputation as an admirer and raiser of fine stock. His stock farm is one of the best in the land, and some of his pets form handsome pictures for the adornment of the walls of the Plankinton. The clerks and employees are well-chosen, and no hotel in the country furnishes a better corps of attendants. The hotel is in consequence of these advantages becoming a popular stopping place for pleasure-seekers and for men of business. May its prosperity continue.

31st—St. John Peckham, Town of Janesville, 9 years.

GILMORE'S BLOW-OUT.

The Baptist church was well filled last evening by those eager to see and hear Gilmore and his famous band. Expectation was at a high pitch, but it is safe to say that few if any of the 800 or more who were present, turned homeward without having the highest expectation realized. The programme was a happy grouping of classical and popular music, the latter predominating, apparently much to the satisfaction of the audience, the majority of whom lack the high musical training necessary to truly appreciate the strictly classical selections. This is true of most of the audiences in cities of this size. There are always some who can thus truly appreciate classical music, and many others who fancy it is rather of a confession of plebeianism to admit that they prefer the more familiar and more popular airs. Most of those, however, who prefer to be honest and outspoken, instead of assuming to be "tony," freely admit that the popular strains touched their hearts the quickest. Gilmore understands this thoroughly, and arranges his programme accordingly. Of the classical pieces the overture from "Der Freischütz" and Liszt's "Rhapsodie Hongroise" were the choicest, the latter being the occasion of an enthusiastic encore. In this piece probably more than any other, the band was enabled to show the perfect practice in time to which Mr. Gilmore has accustomed his performers. The "Monastrery Bells," always a favorite was clothed with new charms, which gave it a hearty reception. The soloists proved favorites. Mr. E. A. Lefebvre, and his saxophone were greeted with an encore. Mr. B. C. Bent is quite a young man, and shows remarkable brilliancy as a cornetist. In some respects, especially in his case and the smoothness of tones, he excels even Levy and Arbuckle. For an encore he rendered most touchingly the "Sweet By and By." Miss Juliet Fenderson, perhaps disappointed somewhat the audience. She has a voice of wonderful power, which seems not to weaken on any note in its wide range. Her voice is also sweet, but it lacks much of the mesmeric thrill possessed by leading songstresses. She was called out on an encore and rendered a ballad, in which she showed perhaps more clearly than in her operatic selections, a lack of thorough training. She evidently possesses a wonderful talent, however. The programme closed very appropriately with "Old Hundred." It is doubtful whether a Janesville church will ever resound with as much inspiration from such a rendition of that grand old tune. Mr. Gilmore has done more probably to develop band music than any man living. The brass band of old 19 hardly recognizable in the magical grouping of tones and the new settings given to well worn pieces. In resistless body and rich fullness of tone, Gilmore's band seems unapproachable.

THE HURRY DID IT.

He had for years been used to lying abed in the morning, and letting the hired girl do the chores, but she was away on a visit. The milkman came as usual at the peep of day, rattled the door, rang the bell and shook the shutters, until the man of the house was aroused, who hearing the terrible racket and rattle, literally jumped into his pants, hastily donned his linen, and, shoeless and coatless ran to answer the summons. After caring for the milk, and building the fire, he completed his toilet which he had commenced in such an abrupt and hasty manner, silently cursing the fates that had given him such a rude waking up. More asleep than awake he finished his dressing, ate his breakfast and repaired to his office. He felt strangely. There was a heavy, dragging, full feeling about his stomach. He laid it to early rising. He laid it to poor coffee. He finally laid it before a doctor, who gave him a little vial of tonic, and took therefor his last dollar. He grew no better very fast. Still the strange feeling about the hips and across the loins. He was frightened. No great pain, but a queer sensation. To divert his mind he concluded to go to the concert. His wife and little boy were by his side quietly listening to the music when he felt something queer crawling up over his collar. He grasped it. It was the top end of his mammoth flannel night-shirt. The mystery was explained. In his haste of the morning he had forgotten about it, and hurried on his other clothes over it, leaving it to bunch up in ridges, which the tonic he had taken seemed to be unable to cure. He don't dress in a hurry any more.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, February 1
The afternoon markets were unsettled, and prices were easier.
Wheat.—The market on spring wheat was nervous and unsettled to-day. The tendency of the movement was a little bullish, but as the European advices about both trade and political affairs were uncertain, and rather indicated an impending change in the war situation, the trade was unwilling to place any confidence in the deal. Hence, though prices closed 1/2¢ higher than the current quotations on yesterday evening, the condition of affairs was far from satisfactory. Operators with a speculative turn, however, took hold freely, and quite a good day's business was transacted, relier March, as usual being the favorite option. Cash grain was also in fair request and for No 2 the market closed at 1.04 for regular, and for 1.04 1/2 for gilt-edge receipts.

The latest report on No 2 spring wheat was irregular and lower, relier March fluctuating between 1.03¢ and 1.08¢, and closing at 1.03¢; relier February gold at 1.02¢ 1/2, and closed with buyers at 1.02¢.
CORN—39¢ per bushel; cash; OATS—23¢ per bushel; cash; RYE—No 2 50¢; BARLEY—New No 2, 49¢; PORK—cash 10.60¢ per lb; LARD—cash 7.44¢; LIVE HOGS—3.70¢ per lb according to grade.
WHEAT—1.08¢; CHEESE—11¢ per lb; EGGS—14¢ per dozen; BUTTER—14¢ per lb; POULTRY—turkeys 82¢; chickens at 65¢ per dozen.
TALLOW—84¢ No 1; BEANS—1.50¢; HOPS—11.75¢ per lb; WOOL—Washed 37¢ per lb; unwashed 35¢; tub washed, fair to good, 37¢ per lb.

New York Grain and Produce Market.

New York, February 1
Flour—Market dull and weak, with no general demand or activity, rye flour, no change; buckwheat in fair demand.
Wheat—Market opened dull and steady with yesterday's prices asked, and but little inquiry; at the close there was more doing, and the market was 1/2¢ firmer; futures wholly neglected and nominal.
COTTON—Memphis quotation 10¢; OATS—46¢ western; OATS—39¢ 1/2; 39¢ 1/2 white western; RYE—western 75¢; BARLEY—68¢; PORK—11.75¢ per lb; LARD—7.00¢ per lb; WHISKY—1.06¢; SUGAR—firm but quiet; refined 9 1/2¢; MOLASSES—New Orleans 25¢; PETROLEUM—7 1/2¢ crude; refined 11 1/2¢; LEATHER—firm; WOOL—domestic fleece 32¢; pulled 12¢; Texas 14¢; unwashed 10¢; COFFEE—Rio 15 1/2¢; gold; jobbing 15 1/2¢ per gold.
TALLOW—Firm; 7 1/2¢; ORESE—1.03¢; BUTTER—Western 9 1/2¢; EGGS—Western 10 1/2¢; TURPENTINE—37¢; NAPHTHA—54¢; BEEF—Western 9¢; RICE—4 1/2¢.
